Annual Report Summary 1976

The Juvenile Court handles all cases involving minors including delinquency, unruly, dependency, custody, and traffic offenses. The intake, detention, adjudication and disposition of these matters are the Court's responsibility. In 1975, 12,637 cases involving at least 8,600 children were filed. These cases resulted in 12,430 hearings before Judges and Referees. Since these matters involve not only children, but also parents, attorneys, and other interested parties, it can be stated that over 36,000 persons appeared before the Court during the year.

The Court's impact in containing and correcting the problems brought before it, is dependent upon the efforts of many people and services. The Judges, by law, review and journalize all action taken in the Court, hearing original cases, certifications, objections, and other contested matters. The Referees, at the behest of the Judges, conduct hearings in the cases assigned to them.

In the years since Gault (1967) an increasing number of contested cases has required the full-time services of Prosecutor's staff and has added to the Court's workload, particularly in the areas of contested cases and certifications.

The Court's detention services (CSI) provides custodial care for children whose situations require that they be held while their cases are pending. Room, board, medical, psychological, and psychiatric services are provided. Also, school and recreational programming.

Probation Services provides social investigations as ordered by the Court and supervision of children who are placed on probation. Supervision entails extensive contacts with children and other family members, schools, and public and private agencies. Placement in foster homes, Court group homes, private institutions or state schools are optional dispositions for children whose delinquencies and/or family problems require their removal from home.

The increase in serious felonious delinquent acts has resulted in a rise in the commitments to the Ohio Youth Commission during the past year. (1974-167 commitments; 1975-204 commitments). Also, the number of certifications of serious young offenders to be tried as adults has gone up from 0 in 1971 to 18 in 1975.

The efficacy of the Court's performance requires the continuing review of operations and adaptation to the changes and developments in law and in the community's social problems. As a system, the expeditious and equitable resolution of cases will require new effort in filing, notification, and hearing processes. As a service, review of programs and the practical assessment of cost effectiveness of service requires constant attention. The inflationary rise of the cost of private institutional care, the high cost of group home care, coupled with continued recidivism will cause us to re-evaluate our programs in these areas in 1976.

We dedicate this issue of our Annual Report to Rita O'Grady who retired in early 1976. After 38 years of dedicated service to the children of our community what can one say. We wish her well in her retirement and we will attempt to build on the foundation that she has laid for helping children in trouble, not only in Lucas County but in the State of Ohio. Ad multos annos!

Annual Report Dedicated To Miss Rita O'Grady

Miss Rita F. O'Grady. A Woman; a very special woman, for she has throughout her entire life served her fellow man with love and justice.

Children have always held a special place in the heart and mind of Rita O'Grady. Initially she received her Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Toronto and her grade and high school teaching certificates from the Ontario College of Education, Toronto, Canada. However, after attending a conference in Buffalo, New York, and listening to a psychiatrist speak on the topic of emotionally disturbed children, Miss O'Grady's desires to serve children were directed toward the field of social work. She subsequently received a Master of Arts degree from the Catholic University of America, Washington, D.C. and a Diploma in Social Work from the National Catholic School of Social Service, Washington, D.C. Thus, a long and dedicated career in social work began.

Arriving in Toledo, Ohio Miss O'Grady worked for Catholic Charities as a caseworker and supervisor and then as a caseworker supervisor for the Lucas County, Relief Administration. In 1937 she was appointed girl's referee in the Lucas County Family Court by the Honorable Paul W. Alexander. The referee concept was a pioneering event not only for Lucas County but also for the Nation as a whole.

Rita O'Grady is now ending 39 years of service to the Lucas County Family Court and the troubled families it serves. Throughout these years in her various capacities as girl's referee, chief probation officer, acting director, and Director of the Family Court Center, Miss O'Grady has exemplified her work with courage, flexibility, humor, fairness, and justice. For Rita O'Grady, service to troubled families has meant progress not stagnation; because of this, Miss O'Grady has continued to bring into the Family Court new, innovative programs and Federal monies. Nor has her interest in youth been limited to the Court of the Toledo area, for Miss O'Grady has utilized her knowledge, skills, and energies on numerous correctional boards, and commissions on the State and National level.

The quality and depth of Rita O'Grady's work has been recognized many times over by such awards as the Toledo Times Woman of the Year in 1953; by the National Association of Social Workers Distinguished Service Award in 1973; by Mary Manse Stella Maris Award in 1973; by the Ohio Youth Commission Distinguished Service Award in 1975; and many others.

A woman; a unique individual. A woman who believes in the basic goodness and beauty of every human being; who believes in everyone's right to dignity, fairness, and justice. A woman who has dedicated her entire life to serving troubled youth and families. A meek and humble woman. Miss Rita F. O'Grady.

Juvenile Traffic Report

A comparison of the statistics compiled for the years 1974 and 1975 shows a significant reduction in the number of traffic complaints filed in 1975.

Numerous factors could explain this reduction, such as the recession, high rate of unemployment, higher gasoline prices, more strict parental supervision, more careful driving, reduction of maximum speed limit and tougher court action.

This referee takes the position that driving is a privilege and a most serious responsibility, and that when an offender abuses this privilege and demonstrates a pattern of irresponsible driving, that person's license will be suspended or revoked.

Dennis P. Ulrich, Referee

Child Study Institute

The scope of the 1975 activities program encompasses many organizations, including county, city, and charitable groups. However, the success of the program lies within. It is the cooperation of the staff and the consequent interest and positive attitudes they generate that is the basic reason for the acceptance of a program by the children. For this reason, we would like to express our appreciation to the staff for their part in making the activities program a success.

Through the generosity of the First National Bank, we were able to arrange for a weekly film carnival for the boys' sections during the summer months. First National Bank has an excellent library of high-interest sports films which it makes available to agencies such as ours. We would like to thank the staff and management for their cooperation in helping us to set up this summer-long program.

The YWCA continued their activities, both in and out of the CSI, with the girls. Varied activities were offered on a weekly basis in CSI, including a once-a-month full length movie enjoyed by both the boys and girls. Bi-weekly Sunday outings were enjoyed by the girls with the volunteers and staff participating in swimming, movies, picnics, putt-putt golf, pizza making parties, gym activities at the YWCA, and special programs held at the YWCA and other community agencies and organizations. The follow-up program began in 1974, continued in 1975, with volunteers working through probation counselors and parents in keeping contact with some of the girls following their release from CSI. The program is designed to provide the girls with positive role models, offering them community contacts and involvement in YWCA classes and activities as well as other programs and events happening throughout the city. This follow-up program is seen as one way of helping to decrease the number of girls who return to CSI after their release due to repeated contact with the law.

The Boys' Club of Toledo is completing its second year of a cooperative program with the Child Study Institute. Each Tuesday, a Boys' Club Professional conducts an activity session including physical education, skills development, physical fitness, and contests. During the summer months, the Boys' Club made its pool available for one afternoon a week to those boys who qualified for an out-of-the-building activity.

The program is a special treat to the boys, but for the Boys' Club it's only a beginning. Boys get a first-hand experience of what club activities are all about.

This can be very important as often a youth, when released from CSI, needs that "place to go" to become gradually absorbed back into society. Many boys join the club and become involved in constructive afterschool activities. We believe that the Boys' Club-CSI cooperative effort has been beneficial to many youths.

Several professional staff people from the Toledo-Lucas County Library were involved throughout the year in providing regular service to both the boys' and girls' floors. These librarians brought books to the CSI to fill individual requests whenever possible, as well as bringing in paperback books which were added to our permanent collection. In addition to the reading material, the librarians showed movies from the library's film collection to the boys and girls. We are presently involved in discussion with the Toledo-Lucas County Library which may lead to a supplement to the permanent collection of books in the CSI Library as well as a professional librarian to regularly service our library.

The CSI library, in its present form, is filled to capacity with volumes obtained from the Toledo-Lucas County Library by Mrs. Joanne Shapler. A weekly library period is provided for all sections so that the boys and girls may select books to take back to their sections for their reading enjoyment.

The Toledo Board of Education again provided the staffing of the Lottie S. Ford School at the CSI. The school, consisting of a principal and two teachers, is located on the second floor of the CSI. We regretted the retirement of Leone Hineline, grade school teacher, after having served the children at the CSI for thirty-four years. During her tenure she contributed a great deal of stability to the educational program and all of us, children and staff alike, owe her a deep debt of gratitude. Joe Christen, principal, also shares classroom assignments with Stephen Kolinski, high school teacher. The grade school classes are conducted by Miss Judy Cremean, who joined the staff after Miss Hineline's retirement. The three teachers work under handicaps not found in the average classroom. Continually changing class lists, inability to employ long-range curriculum devices, and lack of motivation among the students are only some of the problems faced by the teaching staff. However, through their efforts, many children were able to earn both grade and high school credit during their stay here.

Enrichment in the crafts field was provided by Joanne Shapler and June Taylor, ceramics teachers, who conducted weekly ceramics classes for all the boys and girls. During the course of instruction the children were introduced to all phases of ceramics from pouring slip into molds through the finish glazing and were then allowed to present the completed project to their parents.

Additional aid to the programming was provided by the League of City Mothers in the form of athletic equipment and crafts supplies. The League also provided special holiday programs during the year. The Ladies of Charity helped to supplement the holiday programming by providing several parties on these special occasions.

We wish to thank the following community agencies who conducted active programming in CSI during 1975 and are continuing their efforts: League of City Mothers, Exchange Club, YWCA, Boys Club, Toledo-Lucas County Library, Toledo Federation of Musicians, Toledo and Lucas County Boards of Education, Toledo Health Department, Toledo Area Big Brothers, Toledo University, Medical College of Ohio, Toledo and Lucas County Safety Council, Toledo Catholic Charities, Ladies of Charity, Toledo Society for the Blind, Questor Corporation, First National Bank, and Toledo Council of Churches.

Medical Department Report

Submitted by I.H. Kass, M.D.

As in previous years, all incoming children are screened for illness and contagious diseases. Complete medical examination, routine and special laboratory tests, are done where indicated or requested. These records are available to counselors, interested agencies, Court officials and private physicians. Follow-up care of any medical problem is available through excellent cooperation of various social and medical agencies.

Reflecting a national statistical trend, the incidence of venereal disease has shown an increase. Treatment for venereal disease has been carried out by the joint cooperation of the Child Study Institute and the Toledo Health Department.

Dr. Henry Hartman, Consultant Psychiatrist, Reports . . .

The year 1975, for the Department of Psychiatry, was the first year in a long time that no new programs were launched. Indeed, due to the pressure of work, it was deemed wisest to discontinue the Student Nurse Observation Program from St. Vincent and Toledo Hospital. Mrs. Pritscher, the psychology intern from the Medical College, completed her training in June and no intern replaced her. Dr. Sharad Multani, a fellow in child psychiatry from the Medical College, was with us from January through June and proved an invaluable asset in assisting the department to cope with the number of disturbed children who are referred to us for evaluation. It was hoped that with the presence of Dr. Multani, time could be found to reinstitute staff meetings on a regular basis with the leaders on the girls' floor and the boys' floor but this was impossible and these meetings were held only sporadically. The same thing was true for meetings with the Domestic Relations staff. These could not be scheduled regularly due to the pressure of time.

The phenomenon which was commented on last year, namely the increasing number of requests for certification of juveniles to adult court, has continued unabated this year and indeed, may even have increased in intensity. In addition, this year a new element is being added which is making increased demands on the psychiatrist's time. Almost for the first time, psychiatrists as well as psychologists, are being asked to appear at certification hearings to be cross-examined on their reports. The increasing number of certification examination, as pointed out in my last report, would seem to be indicative of severely disturbing changes in society; the increasing appearance of the psychiatrist in court to be cross-examined on his report, tests to the increasing legalization of the Juvenile Justice System. It would not surprise the writer that if this trend continues, he will be expected to testify in adjudication hearings or dispositional hearings, even when certification is not in question.

Possibly a report of this sort is not the place for philosophical speculation, but the writer feels impelled to make some comments on what he sees transpiring. From the time of the promulgation of the Gault decision, the parens patriae foundation of the Juvenile Court has been steadily eroded and it is becoming a carbon copy of the adult version of the Criminal Court. Unquestionably in the writer's mind as well as in the minds of those who have been responsible for this change, this does serve as a greater protection to the civil liberties of the juveniles involved. At the same time while protecting their civil liberties, it disregards their rights as human beings, to be given an opportunity by society to develop in the most normal manner possible. All that seems to be resulting is an earlier exposure to the typical worst aspects of the Criminal Court process: such things as plea bargaining, constant delay by motion, increasing concern with technicalities and lessened concern with the ultimate outcome for the individual. Neither this phenomenon nor the increasing breakdown in social structure, which seems to be leading to the implication of more children at an earlier age with the justice system, is peculiar to this court. It is a nationwide happening. The writer feels that it is imperative that at some point, in spite of their overcrowded schedule, those in the upper echelons of this court, as well as all courts serving juveniles, must take time out to ponder the significance of these facts and in consultation with anyone who can be helpful from any profession whether it be systems theory, business sociology, psychology, psychiatry, criminology or whatever, come up with some innovative programs for handling these youngsters before society itself is completely inundated.

Respectfully submitted,
Henry L. Hartman, M.D.
Psychiatrist

Domestic Relations Division

Within the legal framework of Ohio Statutory Law and the Rules of Practice of the Lucas County Domestic Relations Division of the Lucas County Court of Common Pleas the marriage counseling – divorce investigation staff works to implement the intent of Ohio Law.

Ohio Statutory Law as it relates to divorce proceedings and since 9/23/74, to dissolution of marriage proceedings has had several major changes: -

1951 – Ohio Statute 3105.08 provided for mandatory investigative and counseling service in divorce cases involving children under 14.

7/1/70, section 3105.08 was modified by Rule 75, Ohio Rules of Civil Procedure.

9/23/74 Am. Sub. H.B. No. 233 introduced certain new grounds for divorce (example – living apart for two years without interruption). It also expanded concepts for reconciliation procedures, child support, etc.

9/23/74 – Am. Sub. H.B. No. 233 under 3105.61 provided for dissolution of marriage proceedings.

Under Ohio Statutory law it remains within the discretion of the Court to require an investigation to be made, where there are minor children involved, "as to the character, family relations, past conduct, earning ability, and financial worth of the parties to the action". This statutory provision includes divorces, alimony only actions, annulments, and dissolution of marriage actions. In the Lucas County Domestic Relations Court, along with other Domestic Relations Courts in the larger Ohio metropolitan communities, by Rule of Court, investigatory studies and evaluations at the professional counseling level continue to be mandatory where children under 14 are involved.

The effort of the counseling staff with the above type of case is to –

- 1) evaluate with the clients the possibility of an interest in a reconciliation effort.
- 2) discuss with care the plans being made for the custody of the children.
- 3) clarify, where necessary, the companionship-visitation plans with the children for the non-custodial parent.

In addition to the cases involving children under 14, cases not involving children under 14 are referred to counseling by the Judge; by attorneys; sometimes the referral comes from clients themselves. The promises of positive response to a counseling effort is present in these special referrals.

Contested custody problems are present in many divorce proceedings. The counseling effort here is highly specialized, and considered of great importance to the future of each member of the family. Separating children of the same family, generally, is considered inadvisable on the basis that to be separated from one parent is, in most cases, trauma enough. To separate children of the family for whom their interrelatedness represents the emotional security of the familiar, and the growth potential (hopefully) of the easy give and take between siblings, would deepen the emotional scars of separation.

In all but a very small percentage of cases contest regarding custody are resolved before the case goes to final hearing, and the damage of an open court battle over children is avoided. It is to be noted that in Table 9 – following – of the 1208 Dissolution of Marriage proceedings – in 36 cases custody of the children was awarded to the husband by the separation agreement; in 586 cases custody of the children was awarded to the wife.

In divorce proceedings this same trend of custody of children to the husband seems to be on the increase. Also to be noted in Table 9 is that more than half of the wives involved were employed; that in 181 cases the wife received alimony; in 1016 cases, by the separation agreement, no alimony payments, as such, were to be made to the wife. Factors relevant to the alimony agreement appear to be that in some cases an earlier settlement had been made – e.g. – the family home; certain holdings of the spouses, etc.

The Domestic Relations Division continues in the reciprocity plan by which service is given to other jurisdictions where a divorce is pending, and in which one of the litigants (and often the children) are living in Lucas County. Conversely, by reciprocity, Lucas County Domestic Relations Court receives services from other jurisdictions in similar matters.

The counseling practice, working within the legal framework, uses many methods: – one-to-one counseling; joint counseling sessions with the spouses; family counseling in which one or both parents, and one or more of the children may become involved.

By statute the counselors submit reports to the court for hearings on motions, and for final hearings on all cases assigned to them. These reports are available, on request, to the “attorneys of record”, and to the parties to the action. The counselor can be cited to be cross-examined by the attorneys at these hearings to professionally support recommendations made – especially those affecting children.

Rule 75-2 Ohio Rules of Civil procedure reads: – “when it is essential to protect the interests of a child, the court may join the child of the parties as a party defendant and appoint a guardian ad litem, and legal counsel if necessary, for such child and tax the costs thereof”.

We call special attention to Table 9 – which reflects changing social and family patterns.

Note in Table 1 that of the 1208 Dissolution of Marriage petitions filed in 1975 (with separation agreements signed by both parties 85 such petitions were dismissed. Counseling effort is reflected in many of these dismissals.

Table 7 shows the number of counselors assigned to the counseling effort. It is to be noted, particularly, that the secretarial, receptionist, clerical services of the department performed by Frances Gomolski, Department Secretary, and her three assistants — Joyce Vargo, Linda Mahlman and Donna Flaczinski augment in a substantial and meaningful way the department's work with the court, with the attorneys, and with families in crisis.

The tables following suggest the efforts made and the results achieved in protecting individual and family values; they reflect the close and sympathetic working relationship between staff members of the department, with the Domestic Relations Referees; and with attorneys as officers of the Court, working with the bench for the best interests of each citizen and the community at large.

Assignment Commissioner's Report

The following tables and reports are the cumulative office figures for the year 1975. Please note that, wherever pertinent, a comparison has been made between 1974 figures and 1975 figures.

This office is required to keep statistics in the manner reported here by the Ohio Supreme Court Rules of Superintendence. Pursuant to these Rules the office submits twelve monthly reports and an annual report with the Supreme Court of Ohio.

1975 was the first complete year for the filing and hearing of petitions for dissolution of marriage. It should be noted that due to the increase in the number of filings of dissolutions, the number of filings for divorce has decreased. However, by totaling the filings for both categories there is an increase in filings of 129 more cases in 1975 than in 1974.
